Now in it's 7th year, A live radio talk show with the goals of examining a subject matter On it's own merits and test how it stands up to the many possibilities found in reality. All without pre-drawn conclusions found in personal bias. No left or right wings here. No pounding the pulpit of ego-driven, 'My way or the highway' altitudes. But, there are no free passes given either. Answers to questions are important. But equally important is the reasons and methods one uses to find their answer. The Lack of Contraction is the final judge here, On Feet to the Fire.

What do listeners say about F2F?

Would like to let you know how much I've been enjoying your show. A wonderful variety of topics with balanced presentations and truly thought provoking causing further investigation upon the part of the listener. We need more folks like you out there rather than those "Limbaugh/Bortz" types. Thank you for your contribution towards the uplifting of awareness in a the physical and spiritual realms. Thank you for your hard work. So glad you are out there.

James, you are one of my favorite hosts; so "real". i completely feel you about being connected to your live listeners and know that the focused intentions of us are working for the good. Last weeks interview with the Lord of the Rings researcher was fantastic, will be getting the book very soon. Hope there will be opportunities to continue the discussion. Thank you James for doing what you do.

-Melinda

Just wanted to say again that you are my very favorite guest on your (or any show) show! I find you the most enlightening person to listen to and the things you discuss go along with what I just so happen to need to hear. I love listening to you the most. I wanted to say thank you for all that you do to enlighten us!

-Beth

Your Metaphysical discussions are both inspiring and enlightening with regard to the 'dimensional shift' that is transpiring, and through brilliantly presented talk shows like yours is helping to awaken a sleeping population. Keep up the good work James love F2F..

I did not realize until last week's show, how strongly a degree you facilitate this whole process of lifting consciousness. It was the first time I had the pleasure of listening to the full 4 hour show! You are truly a facilitator in this process and raising this connection benefits all. I see the great potential of this show and would really like to take part in this exciting time. If the listeners can focus on the subjects being brought to your show from a higher state of consciousness then all of mankind will have a greater understanding and many truths discovered.

-Lindsey (CA, USA)

Thanks so much for just being there, in life during the same time that I am here, and lot's of other people. And making your pure and beautiful thoughts known to the rest of us out here. I am really happy I can just listen to you!

What Do the Guests Interviewed on F2F Say?

Thanks for linking me to ftf. To be honest it gives me alot of hope to see this kind of programming. Completely open mind is extremely rare, and finding James and his stream is good news indeed. I'd rather err on the side of openness than presume to know the nature of reality. He's an excellent interviewer - he lets go of the direction but also listen and sculpts. If I can figure out how to download past shows I will listen to some, but so far it is eluding me, even though I am also a prof in Information Science & Tech

*Thoughtful and forceful, provocative, informed, deeply engaging and always engaged.

His criterion is consistency. His manner is that of a gentleman seeker of truth. Don't listen if you want fluff and fufu. But if you want questions to elicit hard facts and solid proof in enjoyable exchange, James is your man. I'd put my feet up by his fire any time.

I have appeared on many radio and televisions shows, and out of all my experiences, I have consistently found The Black Knight, James Arthur Jancik, to be one of the most intelligent, perceptive, engaging, and enjoyable of hosts. It is always both informative and a pleasure to be on his show.

I found James to be best live interview host I've worked with. He seemed to have no agenda but to elicit from me the most compelling presentation of my material. I did almost all of the talking: James' brief and well-placed questions served to direct the interview and give it a logical organization and structure. I also found the show's format, with it's extended segments between breaks, a good match for my material. James used the breaks to coach me in the most effective use of the next segment. I can't imagine a more gracious host.

The unexplained that James Jancik presents on Feet to the Fire is very thought provoking to most people. But, enlightenment is knowledge and understanding. James Jancik knowledge of various topics is very impressive. He respects the person he interviews and he's not critical of new opinions. The questions he asks clarifies new concepts and he's patient throughout the interview. My impressions of Feet to the Fire is very positive and that's due to the high caliber radio talk host.

I've enjoyed the shows we have done and I think you are an effective interviewer, asking questions that people want the answers to. I believe I have been on three times now and each time I felt like you had hit the important points and presented them in a way that the listeners appreciate.
