

James Arthur Jancik is known as the "Black Knight" of Talk Radio™. As host of two weekly radio shows, James demonstrates his versatility in handling different show formats, switching easily between insightful, thought-provoking interviews and discussion, and playful banter and humorous commentary.

As a long time listener of Art Bell, James was inspired to take his computer, engineering and sound production skills along with his conversational and investigative abilities and develop a new venue. The week after Art retired at the end of 2002, James launched "Feet To The Fire", a weekly, live, 4 hour talk show that explores the sciences, the spiritual and the paranormal. With a multifaceted and fast paced formula of personal musings, rotational 'special' guests on topics of emerging interests, a health and healing segment, and two weekly featured guests, the show has attracted a loyal following.

As producer and host of "Feet to the Fire", James has interviewed hundreds of experts on topics ranging from science, medicine, history and alternative energy to UFOs, remote viewing, psychic readings, NDE's, spirituality, ghosts, 2012, exo-politics and the truth about 911. The guest list reads like a who's who in Alternative Talk Radio. A small sample includes: (Egyptian Pyramids) Dr. Robert Shoch, Dr. John West, (UFOlogy) Stanton Friedman, Dennis Balthaser, Dr. Michal Salla, Brian Vike, Betty Lucas, (Remote Viewing) Ed Dames, Brent Miller, Russell Targ, Jim Marrs, (2012) Ian Lungold, Carl Callerman, Don Jaime Perez, (Ancient Civilizations) Glen Kimball, Michael Cremo, Ed Malinowsky, Frank Joseph, (Psychology) Dr. Barbara Hort Ph.D, Dr. Matt Manka Ph.D, Dr. Natalie Reid, Ph.D, (Medicine) Dr. Charles Gant, MD, Kevin Dohen, BA, CHT, MBT, Dr. Betty Martini, (Anti-Gravity) John Hutchison, Tim Ventura (Quantum Physics) Dr. Brett Fadem Ph.D., Dr. Richard Hammond Ph.D., (History) Bill Ayers, Dr. Edgar Mitchell, Lionel Parkinson, John Kay (Conspiracy) Richard Dolan, James Fetchner, Eric Hufschmid.

Five months after the launch of "Feet to the Fire", James expanded his versatility as an on air personality by producing and co-hosting The "Black Knight and Squire 'G' Show". That show, carried by TOGINET, features music, impromptu humor, and satirist banter; all live. To date, James has produced three CDs of song parodies featured on the show.

James is disarmingly chivalrous, with a brilliant manner of interacting with his guests and callers that is easygoing yet incisive. He deftly cuts to the core of the issues, bringing out the best in his guests, mentally invigorating his listeners and often instigating "ah ha" moments for all. James is especially good at thinking fast on his feet, easily handling difficult guests as well as such unexpected occurrences as guest 'no shows', technical difficulties and unscreened callers.

James was born in Chicago, IL., April 2, 1957. He attended UIC majoring in Electronic Engineering. He worked as a sound engineer for several Chicago bands during the 70's & 80's before designing and building his own A/V recording studio. In 2003, James adapted his studio to broadcast on the newly developing Internet Radio and aided in the formation of several stations. Including his own shows, James now produces and airs several talk shows from his Chicagoland home studio broadcast on InnerStreams Radio. James also creates and produces commercials, promos and voice-over projects.
